How To Read This Book

This book is broken down by generations, starting with the first know generation, Andre Parent, born in about 1580. The easiest way to find someone is to start with the latest generation, find someone you know, and work backwards. I'll use an example:

872. Hughes John¹¹ Parent (Jules Aime¹⁰, Theophitus⁹, Albert⁸, Francois⁷, Thomas⁶, Pierre⁵, Pierre⁴, Pierre Alexis³, Charles M.², Pierre¹) was born November 22, 1940 in St Claude, Quebec. He married Joan Ellen Munroe October 01, 1966 in Stanstead, Quebec, daughter of Ralph Munroe and Ruth Curtis. She was born November 17, 1946.

Children of Hughes Parent and Joan Munroe are:

- 1037 i. James Allan¹² Parent, born July 21, 1967 in Newport Vermont. He married Susan Marie Soldati April 16, 2002 in Beechnut Farm, Westford, VT; born May 28, 1967 in Morrisville, Vermont. Baptism: July 29, 1967, Church of Notre Dame de la Merci, Rock Island, Quebec
- +1038 ii. Tina Louise Parent, born January 19, 1970 in Magog, Quebec.
- 1039 iii. Natalie Marie Parent, born September 15, 1973.

Each member of this tree is listed with a unique number. Hugh's number is 872. After a person's name will be a list of ancestors, with the generation number next to it. Hugh's father is Jules, grandfather is Theophitus, great grandfather is Albert, and so on. You can move back through the generations this way.

Also listed are Hugh's wife and children. Any child listed with a '+', like the one by Tina's name, means they have children in the next generation. To find out information about Tina's children, and husband, you simply move down to the next generation and look for her unique number. In this case her number is 1038. There you will find her family information.

Interesting Notes

For those interested, Thomas Parent (630) married his 3rd cousin, once removed, Sophie Parent (628), which puts an interesting branch in the tree. This means Thomas' 3rd great grandfather Pierre Parent (2), married to Jeanne Badeau, was Sophie's 2nd great grandfather.

Notes for Butcher Pierre Parent:

Following is an excerpt from the "Parent Family Genealogy" compiled by Fred J. Parent in 1985 (revised in 1987). Besides the sources mentioned below, special thanks was directed to Raymond Parent of L' Association Quebec-Perche, C.P. 6700, Sillery, P.Q., G1T 2W2, Canada, for information of Pierre & Jeanne in Quebec and to Mrs. Theresa (Langlais) Cyr of Van Buren, Maine for the marriage records data.

The first known ancestor of our Parent Family in North America is Pierre Parant (spelling of the last name later changed to PARENT), son of Andre Parant & wife Marie Coudray of Mortange au Perche, France. Mortange was the capital of Perche, an ancient political division of northwestern France, now included in the departments of Orne, Eure et Lorie, Eure. Mortange, itself, is in the current department of Orne. One unconfirmed family tale suggests that Pierre' s departure from France might have been related to an incident involving accusations of horse thievery, or some equally sensitive issue related to horses. A letter received from the Mayor of Mortange au Perche (dated 2 Nov., 1985) indicated that Pierre Parant was born in the Parish of St. Germain de Loise, in Mortange au Perche, in 1610. A letter received from a "cousin" in Quebec, Raymond Parent (dated 10 Dec., 1985), indicates that Pierre arrived in Quebec on July 10, 1650 (Raymond suggests that Pierre was aged 24 years when he arrived in Quebec; if the Mayor of Mortange' s information is correct, Pierre would have been closer to 40 years of age at this time).

Pierre arrived in Canada under contract to Lord Robert Giffard. New France (Canada), like France operated under a feudal system of seigneuries where the Seigneur/Lord leased portions of the land granted to him by the French King to serfs/peasants who cleared, worked, and developed the land, paying annual fees & taxes to the Seigneur/Lord in return. After his contractual obligations to Lord Gaffard expired, Pierre chose to remain in New France as a settler.

In Quebec, Pierre was primarily known for his work as a butcher, but he also did some farming, sublet farmlands & woodlots, purchased and leased at least one house in Quebec City, sold stone & lime for a time in Quebec City, and operated markets for his meats in both Beauport & Quebec City. For his butcher trade, Pierre bought & raised cattle, as well as sold their hides to tanners & cobblers. Eventually he became recognized as a specialist (expert) on animals and was sometimes called upon to access the value & quality of animals involved in sales, estate, or other legal transactions.

On 7 April 1651, adjoining land grants were made to Pierre Parant and Jacques Badeau (father of Pierre' s future bride, Jeanne) by the Jesuit Priests at Ntre Dame des Anges. The parcel west of Badeau' s was granted to Pierre Parant by Father Jacques de la Place, treasurer/bursar of the Jesuits. The land was all virgin forest and, at this time, the 1650' s, had to be cleared without the help of horses.

In July, 1652, Pierre got a piece of land for himself in Chateau Richer, about 20 miles from Quebec City (not far from Riviere aux Cheins) on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River, near the well known pilgrimage site of Ste. Anne de Beauport. After a year, he sold that farm and moved nearer to Quebec City and, later on, settled at Beauport in about 1673.

On Feb. 2, 1674, Pierre Parant & Jeanne Badeau signed a contract to be married on Feb. 9, 1654, the eldest daughter of Pierre' s neighbor, Jacques and Anne (Ardouin) Badeau of Beauport, a small village a few miles from Quebec City on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River. The 16 year old Jeanne' s dowry consisted of 300 French pounds, two-thirds of which became their common property, and one-third remaining her exclusive property. The wedding took place in the manor house of Lord Robert Giffard, the Seigneur of Beauport, and was performed by a priest named Barthelemi Vimont.

Pierre and Jeanne had 18 children (14 sons & 4 daughters). They already had 10 of the 18 children, when, on March 11, 1674, Pierre and Jeanne got their 11th, 12th, and 13th child all at once - triplets (Jean, Joseph Jean Marie, and Etienne). They (the triplets) were referred to locally as "les jumeaux de Beauport". Four years prior, a royal edict of April 12, 1670, by King Louis XIV of France (wishing to encourage the populating of New France) granted a bonus of 300 French pounds per year to any family having ten children (born in legitimate marriage, but excluded any of said children who remained celibate by entering religious orders or the priesthood) and a bonus of 400 French pounds per year to any family having twelve children. So, in addition to the big event of having triplets, Jeanne & Pierre' s family size hit the top Royal bonus level, too.

In 1683, Pierre received the honorific title of "bourgeois de Quebec" in recognition for his accomplishments in his work, his family (size), and his personal traits.

Generation No. 2

The remainder of the genealogical information on the Parent Family in the profile from Fred J. Parent was traced only thru the male line (patrilineal) and only thru marriage records (i.e. wife's name and date/place of marriage). Today, 1996, much more information has and is being gathered thru various sources to expand the knowledge of the Parent Family and its associated "cluster" family. This family tree is a living, growing document and will continue to grow as long as current information is continually sought out and added to these records.[Broderbund WFT Vol. 8, Ed. 1, Tree #0126, Date of Import: 30 Jun 1998]

Notes for Pierre Parent:

(dated 23 August 1998)

Pierre Parent born 01 October 1727 in Charlesborg, PQ, Canada and marries on 12 June 1752 is listed twice in this file. The first listing is from "Dennis Beauregard: Libtel Rimouski, Repertoire de Mariages" <<http://www.libtel.org>>. Dennis reports that this Pierre married Jeanne Chauveau on the marriage date mentioned above. He has no listing for any children of this marriage.

The second listing is from "Richard (Dick) E. Depathy" and is taken from his current ' home page' at the Family Tree Maker web site <<http://www.familytreemaker.com/users/d/e/p/Richard-E-Depathy>>. Dick lists this Pierre' s marriage to Agathe Boesme on the same marriage date listed above. Dick' s listing, however, also lists 7 children of this marriage.

Both sources trace Pierre' s lineage the same from Andre Parant & Marie Coudray. One of the two marriage listings is incorrect, but no evidence supports a positive choice. A possibility exists that Pierre married both women, but at different times, as in one woman dying and Pierre looks for another wife.

For the time being, I am attaching Agathe Boesme to this Pierre because of the weight of the children listed to the marriage, whereas, none was listed to Jeanne Chauveau.

Notes for Pierre Alexis Parent:

Information re: Pierre Alexis Parent has come from two different sources. First, is the Parent Genealogy as compiled by Fred J. Parent of Biddeford, Maine. The second source is Pierre Parent of Montreal, Canada. Pierre was found through the INTERNET and finally submitted his family genealogy to me. Pierre did not compile his genealogy, just sent me what was already available from other family sources.

While most of the information re: Pierre Alexis is the same in both documents, the date of Pierre' s birth and marriage differ significantly. In Fred J.' s genealogy, Pierre Alexis was born in 1705 and married Marie Anne Belanger in 1733. Those dates are well suited in Fred' s version of the Parent ancestry. However, in Pierre' s (of Montreal) version, Pierre Alexis is not born until 1733 and did not marry Marie Anne Belanger until 1754.

In closer examination of Pierre' s (of Montreal) family genealogy document, when the ancestor of the next (4th) generation is examined, Pierre Parent (the 4th generation descendant) was born in January of 1758 and married Marie Proteau in 1765 - just 7 years after he was born.

Pierre Alexis' s genealogical dates in this record are those of Fred J. Parent. It seems that the birth & marriage dates (in Pierre of Montreal' s document) are not correct in that they don' t conform to the mean average times between a person' s parents marriage, his/her birth, and his/her own marriage ... for people of the early 1700' s. Fred J.' s work did not include listing any children of Pierre Alexis Parent & Marie Anne Belanger, as his (and my) descendancy are of Pierre Alexis' s uncle, Etienne Parent. Other dates that are also out of genealogical order will be listed as "Abt xxxx" with the year value as close an approximation as possible; with reference in the "notes" as the the actual year listed in Pierre' s (of Montreal) document.

In yet another source, from Dick Depathy - citing Drouin as his source, names Marie Jeanne Belanger as Pierre Alexis' s wife not Marie Anne, as both other sources have. He also lists the marriage as 04 Oct. 1729 in Beauport. Dick Depathy also did not have Pierre' s middle name (Alexis) listed making for identification of this Pierre more difficult. The name of Marie Anne Belanger has been retained as is the marriage year of 1733.

The possibility exists that this genealogical report of mine is not correct for all of the cross-examination of available information.

As a young girl Alice traveled to Waterville Maine with her sister Bertha to work in the woolen mill on Water Street in Waterville. These two sisters never married. They eventually returned to St. Ludger. After their sister Hermina died they raised her 2 daughters Lise and Jeannine Doyon.

As children my sisters and I would visit our grandparents in St. Ludger and would often visit our great aunts. They were very kind and friendly ladies. We were always welcomed no matter what they were doing. They would drop whatever it was to visit with 3 children. They had a great love for cats and could not stand to see them suffer. If they found a stray they would take it in. These great aunts were in their 70' s and 80' s during the time of our visits. One day when we arrived one was in a tree trimming branches while the other was directing which to trim. They were very unique and that is what we loved the most about them. One time my sister mentioned that she liked one of their berets and they just gave it to her. It could have been their best beret, it did not matter they gave it to her anyway. That is the kind of ladies they were.
